A. building, which the mempers and triends of the Association are making efforts to erect. Col. Sill was introduced to the audience by Professor Clark, of the Association.

The Colonel premised his address with the statement that he was glad of the opportunity of helping in an indirect of way year to-morrow. Rev. Elbert Clement was the erection of ac association building in this town. He wished the project success and expressed the opinion that now the facties had taken up the matter, it might be safely regarded as assured. Col. Sill then entered on his subject, "In and Out of Rebel Prisons." He briefly described his capture by the rebels, and then went into a graphically detailed account of his confinement in rebel [military prisons.] and the hardships endured in making his way to the union lines after his escape. The lecture was listened to with close attention, by an appreciative audience, who returned the speaker a vote of thanks. ...
